Aims of Module

The aim of this module is to introduce students to a wide range of social, geographical and industrial contexts in which the entrepreneurial process can occur.

Learning Outcomes for Module

On completion of this module, students are expected to be able to:

- 1 Critically evaluate scholarly literature on the role of context in entrepreneurship through the investigation of current themes in entrepreneurial studies.
- 2 Critically evaluate the entrepreneurial process, its background and consequences in the contexts of the individual, culture, location, organisation and the wider society and economy.
- 3 Synthesise the theoretical knowledge to develop a contextual awareness for the entrepreneurial process.
- 4 Examine the contextual awareness and continuous learning process to identify entrepreneurial opportunities and processes of their exploitation as an aid to decision making.

Indicative Module Content

Entrepreneurship is recognised as a key activity in the process of creation of a new enterprise, and in ensuring the sustainability of an existing business. This module draws on theories to explore the importance and impact of context on the process of planning, starting, developing and sustaining a business venture.

Module Delivery

This module will include lectures, seminars, tutorials, case studies, presentations from visiting scholars and directed independent learning.
