Created	April 2022	SCQF Level	SCQF 7
Approved	June 2018	SCQF Points	15
Amended	April 2024	ECTS Points	7.5

Aims of Module

To provide the student with an understanding of adventure and activity based tourism; encompassing knowledge of the development of the Adventure and Activity tourism niche markets and the benefits offered to individuals undertaking these activities.

Learning Outcomes for Module

On completion of this module, students are expected to be able to:

- 1 Evaluate the UK outbound, inbound and domestic adventure and activity tourism market
- 2 Explain the potential benefits and risks associated with adventure and activity tourism activities
- 3 Describe the characteristics and motivations of the adventure/activity tourist.
- 4 Apply knowledge of adventure & activity tourism products and concepts to create a proposal for an adventure or activity tourism experience.

Indicative Module Content

The historical development of adventure and activity tourism; demand and supply of adventure and activity tourism; management of risk; experiences and benefits sought by adventure and activity tourists; practical application of adventure and activity concepts and product knowledge to devise new tourism products. Students will engage with UNESCO's Education for Sustainable Development Anticipatory, Collaborative, Critical Thinking, Normative and Self-awareness competencies as they consider future industry developments; engage in collaborative activities to explore tourism products and practices that embrace sustainability; reflect upon their own perspective as a future tourism professional and identify the sustainability benefits that can be delivered by niche tourism. This module will provide opportunity to engage with UNSDGs 5, 8, 12 and 13

Module Delivery

Fundamental concepts are introduced and illustrated through lectures. The understanding of students is tested and further enhanced through student centred learning exercises and interactive tutorial sessions. The application of theory to practice is facilitated through case studies, independent research and an adventure and activity field trip.
