ECTS Points

7.5

Aims of Module

Amended

To provide students with an understanding of the principal models of mediation and to provide the opportunity for them to learn about the mediation process in action

Learning Outcomes for Module

On completion of this module, students are expected to be able to:

August 2023

- Analyse the principal mediation models, as well as the theoretical and practical considerations involved in the work of a mediator
- 2 Demonstrate possession of the skills necessary to be a mediator
- 3 Demonstrate the ability to conduct a mediation session

Indicative Module Content

This course teaches a mainstream facilitative mediation model, alongside evaluative, transformative and narrative alternatives. It offers opportunities for skills based learning through roleplay and small group exercises. It also provides an introduction to mediation in context, including family, community, commercial and workplace mediation. It introduces students to current debates within mediation, e.g. the facilitative v evaluative mediation; the role of social justice; impartiality and neutrality.

Module Delivery

This module is primarily taught online using discussion forums and online tutorials. Some of the teaching and preparation for the assessment are taught using a hybrid on-campus/online model.
